Too good to be true

When I was a little boy growing up, I thought that there were many perfect people. Dad was perfect. Mum was perfect. Grandparents were perfect. Teachers were perfect and Headmasters were perfect.

I used to play magic tricks on my little daughter, Catherine. I could make things disappear and then make them reappear. All I had to do was to distract her attention for a moment, not that it was all that necessary – you see, a 3 year old believes that her dad is perfect, even believes that he can do magic. I remember one day when Catherine accidently broke a toy. She asked me if I could magic it back together again. Of course I couldn't but I did tell her that I needed a bit of time for this one so I took it away (and purchased a new toy down the road and replaced it). She wasn't all that impressed – why would she be – after all, dad was magic – why the delay? On another day, I found her crying in her room. I asked what was wrong and she explained to me through raking sobs that she had tried all day but she could not do magic. The jig was up. I had to tell her that dad was not magic at all. I had set her up for a double disappointment. Dad wasn't magic AND dad wasn't perfectly trustworthy. (There goes another father of the year nomination).

Telling people that you are a Christian can sometimes feel like you have made a claim that you are magic – or perfect – or too good to be true – or deluded. It’s not that you think these things; it’s just that the listener probably does not understand what you are saying. So …

When I say, “I am a Christian”, I’m not shouting, “I’ve been saved!”
I’m whispering, “I get lost sometimes. That’s why I chose this way”
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I don’t speak with human pride
I’m confessing that I stumble – needing God to be my guide
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I’m not trying to be strong
I’m professing that I’m weak and pray for strength to carry on
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I’m not bragging of success
I’m admitting that I’ve failed, and cannot ever pay the debt
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I don’t think I know it all
I submit to my confusion, asking humbly to be taught
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I’m not claiming to be perfect
My flaws are far too visible, but God believes I’m worth it
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I still feel the sting of pain
I have my share of heartache, which is why I seek God’s name
When I say, “I am a Christian”, I do not wish to judge
I have no authority, I only know I’m loved

So when I say that I’m a Christian, it does not mean that I think I am too good to be true or even that I am better than anyone else …

... in fact, praise God that I am not.
This week, the College Headmaster has been asked to be the Chairman of the Review of Richard Johnson Anglican College. He will lead a team of experts in the fields of teaching and learning, pastoral care, IT, administration, Christian ethos and property drawn from other Anglican schools and beyond to provide a report to the Sydney Anglican Schools Corporation on the progress and performance of a similar Anglican School.

Our own College has been reviewed in a similar way on two occasions. Every five years we are also inspected by BOSTES, the regulators for both government and non-government schools in NSW. It is good that there is such an opportunity for quality feedback in the operation of our schools. Sadly, local schools do not receive this same opportunity for systemic and independent monitoring.

OVERALL HOUSE SHIELD

The Overall House Shield was implemented in 2014 as a way that all students could belong to their House groups and make contributions to their House through a combination of the College Award System, Mission/Service based activities and Sport. It was designed to combine the House system points that previously for the majority focused on the Sporting Carnivals to widen the manner in which all students could contribute to their House. The current point score based only on the award system is as follows:

- Acacia 507
- Wollemi 481
- Grevillea 500
- Sollya 428
- Telopea 428

It is encouraging to see that between all five houses there is a tight level of competition and that the contributions of the House members are currently quite equal. Transition to Year 2 students are reminded that the way that they can contribute to the Overall House Shield is through attendance at Community Service events. This can be best supported in terms of attendance at the upcoming Term 2 Term Service. Students from Years 3-12 are encouraged to ensure that they have all awards signed in and that they make staff aware when checks take place on their progress in the award system to ensure that all points are collected for their House group. Further updates will take place throughout the Term with the final announcement on this taking place on Presentation Evening. Grevillea were the winners last year in the first year of the shield, so the challenge is out for a new winner in 2015.

Generosity

In a new initiative for Term 2 2015 our student leaders will give an address to Secondary as part of the Secondary Weekly Assembly. This is a another way we are looking to provide opportunities for our leaders to develop their leadership skills further. Students will plan, write and deliver the address with a focus on an attitude or value for the week.

This is what College Captains Laura Fleming and Samuel Gardiner came up with for this week.

What is the first thing that comes to your mind when I say generosity? Maybe you think of giving. Generosity certainly can come in the form of giving money to support those less fortunate than us and this is one way that we can make an impact on the lives of others. In a school context we have an opportunity this term by giving to support the work of many mission organisations on Foundation Day. By giving $5.00 to this cause we in a small financial way as a collective College can show a generous spirit to support others.
Each one of us can be generous, and it doesn’t always have to involve money. Another area we can show generosity to people is through the giving of our time. We can be generous to our family, friends, community and beyond through taking an interest in others, supporting them, listening to the them. Using your time to benefit others rather than yourself is one way that you can become a more generous person. Our generosity can both individually and collectively impact others and also shift our thinking from me to we, a mindset which creates a climate of care for others.

K-8 Buddies
The first session of K-8 Buddies for Term 2 will take place this Friday, 8 May. This is a time that is enjoyed by all who are involved. It is a great program that links students from the older parts of Primary and early Secondary to students in Kindergarten, Year 1, Year 2 and Year 3. It provides an opportunity for relationships to develop between our more senior students and those in the early stages of Primary and follows a progression to where our Year 4 students commence being a buddy for students in Transition. The program runs twice a term on Friday mornings during Roll Call time.

Year 11 Camp
The Year 11 Camp program takes place this week and is a program that focuses on moving students out of their comfort zone through a City Experience style Camp. The Camp focus areas on leadership development, self sufficiency, team based challenges and developing an understanding of homelessness. It is a great program and we greatly appreciate the staff at Boomerang Adventures who assist us in the delivery of what is a really exciting experience. It is always encouraging to hear from our students, on return from the Camp, the impact that it has had on them and how fortunate they feel to live where they live and have what they have.

Acting Deputy Headmaster

1. Parent-Teacher Interviews – Years 11 and 12

   All Year 11 and 12 Parents should have received an email with details on how to book interviews with teachers. Remember – place the teachers in order of preference. For your information, the following will occur in the next week or so prior to the Parent-Teacher Night.

   Thursday, 14 May – last day to book teachers before interviews are calculated.

   Friday, 15 May – Interview times are calculated – bookings cannot be made on this day. At 5.00 pm, interview times should be available.

   Saturday, 16 May to 1.00 pm Tuesday 19 May – Parents can book with teachers if they have gaps or need to adjust their bookings.

   Tuesday, 19 May - 3.30 pm to 8.00 pm – Year 11 & 12 Parent –Teacher Night

   FAQ: What if I didn’t receive an email? This is probably because we do not have your current email address. If you call the office, you can request your booking code (and possibly update your email address with the office, too!). Go to the website www.edval.com.au/book to make your bookings.

2. Years 7 to 10 Examinations – Week 5

   With Half Yearly Examinations starting in just over a week, students should have begun their preparation. This includes ensuring they have a complete set of notes, practicals, worksheets and whatever else is necessary for study. They should have checked with each teacher what to expect in the examination, in terms of content or topics, as well as the structure of the examination. Using that information, students should have begun some summaries or study notes or flashcards or whatever study technique works best for them. Practice questions using their textbook or maybe examination style questions is recommended as well.

What a great day was had last Saturday at our Term 2 Working Bee with 120 people here giving a helping hand. The weather was a bit miserable as we worked to make our College shine before the Car Show this coming Saturday. Nevertheless we did achieve so much.

Jobs completed:
- Rubbish around the College was picked up by students
- The College carpark gutters were swept of leaves
- Tidying up took place in the gardens around the new Trade Skills Centre and others gardens around the College.
- Many gardens including the Flynn carpark were weeded.
- Cobwebs were brushed from buildings.
- Books were covered over in Flynn 2.
- A garden at the rear of Flynn was upgraded by adding new soil mulch and plants.

A big thank you to Rob Rollason for bringing in his front end loader to load soil and mulch and for Amanda his wife who always helps me with her expertise and knowledge of plants. It was also good to have Matty Watson, an ex student returned to assist all day from set up to pack away.

As always a scrumptious Morning Tea was provided by the Wollondilly Anglican Community Church and lunch was provided by the P&F. Thanks to those members for cooking our sausages and meat patties as well as serving them to us.

Our next Working Bee will be held on the 5 September before the Country Fair on 12 September so place these two dates in your diaries folks, there will be lots to be done.

Elective German students at the College are encouraged to use their developing German skills in meaningful ways. At the end of last term Year 9 built and furnished a giant gingerbread house, which they then proceeded to describe in German. This was lots of fun, but was also closely linked to our current unit on 'The Home'.

This week saw the Year 10 class running all over the College on a treasure hunt. Students were in teams and needed to read clues written in German to find the next checkpoint. The successful team was very speedy and were delighted to learn that the "Schatz" was some very delicious German chocolate. This activity was closely linked to our unit on "Directions".

Remember "Monolingualism is curable. Learn a second language!"

‘Great War and Me’ Competition Winners

Last term there was a selection of students that were creating 2D artworks and making props for video projects as a part of the Daily Telegraph 'Great War and Me' competition.

NewsLocal invited students from Years 7-10 to research the tumultuous impact of World War I on young Australians 100 years ago and tell the story of the life and experiences of a soldier, sailor, nurse, medic or animal that served in the Australian armed forces in the Great war of 1914-1918. Entries could be about a real subject or re-imagined based on research and portrayed in articles, artworks and videos.

I am so thrilled to announce that two of our students have been chosen as winners. Please congratulate Kyran King and Josiah Jacobs in Year 7 for their video entry in the competition. Both students regularly attended Art Club on Friday lunchtimes making props for their video work and they worked through the College holidays filming to complete the project. The students will be published in the newspaper and online on 5 May, with an award presentation on the 18 May.
The Film

Kyran played 'Herbert Scanlon' who was a real soldier who joined the army when he was 17, lied and said he was 20, lived in Victoria. Scanlon left his work as a farmer to join the Australian Imperial Force in July 1915. He was honourably discharged with permanent disability in February 1917. Unable to return to farming, he survived on a small military pension and began to write about his experiences during World War I.

Josiah played 'Charles Edwin Woodrow-Bean', who was an official war correspondent to the AIF (Australian Imperial Forces) at Gallipoli, France and Belgium. Bean is renowned as the editor of the 12-volume Official History of Australia in the War of 1914–1918. Bean was instrumental in the establishment of the Australian War Memorial, and of the creation and popularisation of the ANZAC legend.

Kyran and Josiah’s video was filmed using a tripod and digitally enhanced with a vintage sepia overlay, to add an historical atmosphere. The story was a mock interview in an army hospital where Herbert Scanlon (played by Kyran) had kidney disease nephritis. Charles Edwin Woodrow-Bean (played by Josiah) interviewed Herbert from his hospital bed. The students filmed the footage at home over the College holidays. They created an army hospital by using camping beds, filming on the outside patio with khaki tarps hanging to cover the brick work and the backyard. The noise from Picton Road carried into the audio of the video, which sounded like army trucks in the background.

I asked Kyran and Josiah what was the best part of making the film. ‘The best roll play was when my teddy bear played a dead man in the hospital bed next to me’ - Kyran King

‘The best bit of filming was the amount of time we stuffed up and kept laughing’ - Josiah Jacobs

Congratulations Kyran and Josiah.

He has reconciled you by Christ’s physical body through death to present you holy in his sight, without blemish and free from accusation. Colossians 1:22

I try to imagine what this would be like in a courtroom, but it's really difficult to picture a self-confessed criminal being judged as completely innocent. And yet, that is what God has done for everyone who gives their life to Jesus. Yes, it seems odd, but it is also good.

PRAYER POINTS

Thank God
- That only He is perfect
- That we are not – and that this realisation creates the need for Him
- For those who point the way to Christ
- For the fantastic community support in evidence at the Working Bee and ANZAC Day celebrations.

Ask God
- That we might better educate others on what is a Christian – and on what a Christian is not.
- For wisdom for the Review Team visiting Richard Johnson Anglican College. That we may better know Him and His purpose for our lives.

Psalm 127:1 Unless the Lord builds the house, its builders labour in vain.
